Capuchin Community Services Helps Families

New services and existing programs used by families with children

House of Peace

Volunteers frequently bring children to help out on the St. Ben’s Meal serving line. Many children return as adults to assist with the ministry.

Maria and her daughter Adriana chatted with Br. Jerry & Br. Robert after receiving food for their family of seven. Maria is a commercial cleaner working at night.

Johnnie brought her daughter, LaVeauna and her other children for Hygiene Supplies.

Sheila brought her granddaughters Shanova (center) and Zyria (right) to pick out clothing as they prepare to return to school.

St. Ben's Community Meal

Guests are sheltered from the weather while waiting for the meal. The Gathering Space includes a Childrens’ Play Area & Library.

Jerlene brought her daughters Shanti and Skler to enjoy a filling meal. Look at the smiles!

An Imitation of Christ

Remember that feeling in the pit of your stomach when it was time to go back to school? I was a good student and had gifted and committed teachers – thank you, Religious Sisters of Mercy – but while school was good, playing outside, going to the swimming pool, or seeing the first “Star Wars” for the 5th, 6th, and 7th time was better. The end of summer ritual was always the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, which my brother and sisters and I watched every year. I never imagined that decades later I’d be tasked with raising enough money to sustain the good work of Capuchin Community Services. Jerry had Frank and Sammy and Liza to help him, and I have you. I am at peace.

I hope my parents didn’t spend a lot of time worrying about our health and safety. Today’s reality is different. The poverty rate is 15% in Wisconsin. In Milwaukee it’s 29%, and 40% of our children live in impoverished households. We know that these conditions make it extraordinarily difficult for kids to learn, and that all children have the right to a good education and a safe neighborhood. Jesus was way ahead of his time in beholding children. Check out Matthew Chapter 18 (and Mark 9) (and Luke 17, but Matthew is so beautiful): we are meant to learn from them, and imitate them in their resilience, their openness to love, and their ability to forgive.

From its founding the House of Peace has had a mission to help keep families together by providing food, clothing, and hygiene items so that scarce financial resources can be used for other essentials like rent, utilities, and health care. The family mission at Saint Ben’s has evolved. A family seating section was added to the Meal Hall in response to the growing number of kids coming in, and a kid-friendly section and enlarged bathroom with childcare equipment – thank you, Wheaton Franciscan Sisters – was built into the new gathering space when it opened in January.

My ministry at CCS brings me to kids (visits to schools and parishes and churches) and kids to me (families in need of support and services, volunteers and volunteer groups of all ages who minister at the HOP and at Ben’s). This is an imitation of Christ (journeying from village to village preaching the Kingdom of God, even as people brought to him those who were afflicted) and volunteer groups of all ages who minister at the HOP and at Ben’s). This is an imitation of Christ (journeying from village to village preaching the Kingdom of God, even as people brought to him those who were afflicted in all ways) that I also never dreamed of, not even on those long summer days when there was nothing to do. Now there is much to do. And you (and You) are with me, and I am at peace.

Pastoral Direction

Pastoral Director

“And whoever receives one child ... in my name receives me” (Matthew 8: 5)

God calls children a blessing and a gift. Their spirits are filled with innocence, joy and laughter. As we begin a new school year it is good to reflect upon children and their future. Children in the truest sense are the resources of a country. Today’s child will be tomorrow’s leader. The future of the country depends on today’s children. They are the nation’s treasure. Thus children should be cared for, nurtured and developed properly.

For this we need to formulate a plan for the intellectual, physical, mental and emotional development of children. Special care must be taken to immunize, educate and nurture poor children to give them strength and support in the development of strong and holistic personalities. This is what Capuchin Community Services is trying to do for the poor and needy children through our School Supply Drive.

Over the last few weeks I’ve seen the packages coming into the House of Peace from Amazon and Target. Backpacks, pencils, paper, glue and much more have come in to help us prepare children in our neighborhood for school. We sincerely thank and appreciate the generosity of the many good hearts who participated in this drive.

Let’s reflect on the words of author Suzanne Chazin, “A child is a seed, you water it. You care for it the best you can. And then it grows all by itself into a beautiful flower.” And so we learn to love and care for every child. This edition of our newsletter will mail just before we actually distribute school supplies to the community. We will share photos of the event online and on our website. Sign up to follow us on Facebook and Twitter if you’d like to see the many happy and grateful faces of our children. May God bless you all. Be assured that all of our donors, volunteers and supporters are in our prayers daily.

Holiday Food Box & Toy Drives To Start
Over 4,000 boxes to be filled and 4,000 new toys to be collected

The Holiday Food Box and Toy Drives were started by Capuchin Br. Booker Ashe. For over 5 decades, the House of Peace has continued this ministry. Br. Mark Carrico, now deceased, used to say that there was an extra sting to poverty during the holidays for families with children. "Everyone has a TV so our guests know that others are able to get nice gifts, share special meals and celebrate together," Br. Mark would say.

With summer just ending it might seem a little early to think about Thanksgiving and Christmas. Br. Robert Wotypka disagrees. "I spent last year as the pastoral director at the House of Peace and was so amazed at all of the logistical planning that has to happen in advance. Then I saw the results, over 1,500 households fed and that means we reached over 7,500 individuals with a holiday meal!"

Fr. Robert continued, "We had 68 organizations help us last year. Everyone from schools, businesses, house of worship groups and neighborhood groups. They donated 163,284 lbs. of food and held 19 toy drives. If we had had to pay for the food and gifts it would have cost over $150,000!"

To help this year you can take any one of these steps:
1. Use our shopping list to fill a food box. Boxes will be available for pick up after October 4th, the Feast of St. Francis.
2. Purchase toys, books or winter clothing for children birth to 8 yrs. You can do your shopping in person or use one of our gift registries:
   - Amazon Registry: CapuchinCommunityServices.org/Amazon
   - Target Registry: CapuchinCommunityServices.org/Target
   - Shopping List: CapuchinCommunityServices.org/Toy

Volunteer Help Needed:
Our drives have been facilitated by a volunteer in the past. We are seeking someone who can commit 3 hours per day, 3 days per week to start and then 3 hours per day, 5 days per week from mid-November to Christmas. Interested? Call Fr. Robert at 414.933.1300, ext. 1111.
